By Road

From the A1 (M)

Approaching Luton from A1(M) on the A505. Pass the University of Bedford, Luton Campus on your left, you come to a roundabout. The Butterfield Technology Park is right off this roundabout. Basepoint Business Centre, is immediately left as you enter the Technology Park. Please park in any available visitors car parking space.

From the A6 (Southbound)

Entering Luton on the A6 via a series of roundabouts, pass Barnfield College on the left, before arriving at a set of traffic lights. At the next roundabout, turn left onto A505, continue across a further set of traffic lights and up a hill to a roundabout. At the roundabout turn left, continue to a second roundabout, straight over and onto a length of dual carriageway to the Stopsley Green roundabout. You will see Jansell House, a large office block on your right ahead of you. Continue across this roundabout to the next roundabout. The Butterfield Technology Park is the first exit left off this roundabout. Basepoint Business Centre is immediately on your left as you enter the Technology Park. Please park in any available visitors car parking space.

From the M1 – Southbound

From the M1 travelling south, leave at junction 11, turn left (east) onto the A505. Continue over a series of roundabouts, across the A6, following the signs for the A505 Stopsley and the A1(M). After you have crossed the A6, follow the directions as for the A6 (Southbound) above.

From the M1 – Northbound

Leave the motorway at junction 10. Turn right (east) onto the A1081. Follow this to junction 10A and then follow the signs for Luton Airport to the next roundabout where you join the A505. Follow the signs on the A505 for the A1(M). You will eventually come to Stopsley Green and the Butterfield Technology Park as detailed in the directions above.

By Rail

The nearest British Rail stations are the Luton mainline station and Luton Parkway station. It is not possible to walk from these railway stations however buses and taxis are available.

By Bus

Bus services 101 and 102 leave Luton Bus Station next to the mainline Railway Station to Butterfield Technology Park. The 100 bus service serves Luton Parkway Station and Luton Airport then PHC's Luton Clinic. Ask for the stop before the Basepoint Business Centre, opposite Mount Grace Road.
